Ironwood Tree Experience

Youth For Blue Skies Internship

GEAR UP & GET READY!

2/7/26 9:00am - 4:00pm

WHAT TO EXPECT

Hello YBS Interns! Thank you for joining Ironwood Tree Experience (ITE) for our first day of Youth for Blue Skies. We will begin and end the day at Ironwood Tree Experience (738 N 5th Ave Tucson, AZ).

After an introduction to the internship we will travel to Sabino Canyon in the Santa Catalina mountains. There we will explore a beautiful low desert creek and get into the themes of this internship: Environmental Justice, Air Quality, and Community Impact.

Weather will be warm and sunny with a high of 77˚F or 25˚C

WHAT TO BRING

- Backpack*
- Lunch and snacks
- Sun hat*
- Sunscreen*
- 1-2 Water bottles*
- Notebook/paper
- Pen/pencil*
- Comfortable closed toed walking shoes
- Extra layers for sun protection or warmth.*

Can be borrowed from ITE*

ITE programs are rare opportunities to make connections with nature without distractions. To take advantage of this we ask that students keep phones put away as much as possible and do not use headphones during the day.
